MANUEL PEREIRA: THE SOVEREIGN BULE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Views of Southern Laws, Life, and Hospitality Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

THE above work forms a beautiful 12mo volume of over 300 pages, small pica. Price—in paper, 50 cents; muslin, 75 cents. The usual discount to the Trade. Orders solicited. Copies sent by mail, prepaid, any distance under 3,000 miles, for 61 cents.

The above work is a delineation of the scenes and incidents connected with the imprisonment, in 1852 of Manuel Pereira, steward of the British brig Jan son, in the jail of Charleston, S. C.

The following notice of this work is copied from the National Era of February 17:

"The above is the title of a work now in press founded upon that infamous statute of South Carolina, by which her citizens claim a right to imprison colored seamen, of all nations, and even those cast upon their shores in distress. We have perused the book in advance of its publication, and find that it gives a life-like picture of Pereira, the vessel in which he sailed, the storms she encountered, and her wrecked condition when brought into the port of Charleston, S. C.; to gether with the imprisonment of Pereira, several seamen belonging to the New England States, and two French seamen; the prison regimen, character of the Charleston police, and the mendacity of certain officials, who make the law a medium of peculation. The work is replete with incidents of Southern life and character, pointing Southerners to the things that call for correction at their own hands, with a force that cannot fail to interest alike the general reader, commercial man, and philanthropist."

The above work can be obtained, at wholesale prices, from ries to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true."

Its OBLECT.—To advocate the Cause of Temperance generally, and especially the Legislative Prohibition of the Traffic in Intoxicating Beverages, to prepare the minds of the masses for such Prohibition, by showing its expediency and Necessity, and to secure by all the influence it may legitimately exert, the vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Firld.—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to every community where the traffic exists and with facts illustrative of those arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the Nation. No. 3,325, you have made for me, and in which I expressly stipulated that it should maintain a uniform rate of going under every variety of motion and climate. This it has done in a most remarkable manner; its rate of going for the first six months was five seconds per month, and in the next six months it changed its rate a little faster, vis: eight seconds per month, and at the end of 385 days it was found to be fast of Greenwich mean time one minute and fifteen seconds. Is the choapest and best Musical Paper in the world. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. These Reprints have now been in successful operation in this country for twenty years, and their circulation is constantly on the increase, notwithstanding the competition they encounter from American periodicals of a similar class, and of numerous Eclecticand Magazines made up of selections from foreign periodicals. This fact shows clearly the high estimation in which they are held by the intelligent reading public, and affords a guarantee that they are established on a firm basis, and will be opntinued withou interruption.

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. In is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still un der the masterly guidance of Christopher North, main tains its ancient celebrity, and is at this time unusu ally attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that Magazine, and effect appearing in its columns both in Great Britair and in the United States. Such works as "The Cax tons" and "My New Novel," both by Bulwer; "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Black wood, after it has been issued by Messrs. Scott & Coso that subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely upon having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abroad, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Farmer, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener, and the Stock-Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their continued effort to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to catch popular favor by lumboring up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately portaining to the great business of Agriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will receive a due share of attention. The humbogs and nostrums affoat in the community will be tried by reliable scientific rules, and their worthlessness exposed. It is the aim of the publishers to keep this paper under the guidance of those who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

The American Agriculturist stands upon its own merits; and the truthfulness, zeal, and ability, which it brings to the support of the interests of the farmer. It is untrammeled by any collateral business connections whatever; nor is it the organ of any clique, or the puffing machine of any man or thing. Thoroughly independent in all points, its ample pages are studiously given alone to the support and improvement of the great agricultural class.

Editorial Department.

The American Agriculturist is under the editorial supervision of Mr. A. B. Allen, its principal editor for the past ten years, and Mr. Orange Judd. A. M., a thoroughly practical farmer and agricultural chemist.

They will be assisted by Prof. Nash, who has been for a long time one of the most successful farmers of for a long time one of the most successful farmers New England, and is now Agricultural Professor New England, and is now Agricultural Professor of Amherst College; Rev. Wm. Olift, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardening and other departments of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agricultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Plow as well as the Pen.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its char-acter.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader more than the cost of the paper for a year.

The Farm can be divided into several, giving a fair proportion of wood and meadow land to each. The whole Farm is well watered, several never-failing streams passing through it. The fencing is good, and there is a large quantity of cheatnat timber in the woods, suitable for a further division of the fields.

In point of health, beauty, and location, it is not surpassed by any farm in the State of Maryland. It has always been remarkable for its beauty. The dwelling contains eight rooms, kitchen, pantry, &c., garret, collars, &c., all surrounded by a neat paling, with a pump of good water in the yard; barn, stable, and other out-houses; good spring-house, with a never-failing spring of delightfully cool water attached.
